Event Description

The University of Alabama is seeking sealed proposals for Contractor to host an official off-campus housing website as per associated general and technical specifications.

The successful Contractor will host an official off-campus housing website that includes a searchable database of off-campus properties. The Contractor shall provide on-going support and service including hosting and building the website as well as marketing the website through targeted advertising. The platform shall provide students, faculty, and staff of The University of Alabama with local rental listings, roommate finding service, and pertinent information regarding rental laws, etc. Other services are also of interest, and these might include but not limited to on-campus events, fairs or other outreach to our campus community.

Accessing Solicitation Within ESM Source System

This Solicitation is being administered through the University's electronic system, ESM Source. All Bidders should view and respond to this Solicitation through the ESM Solutions system. See comprehensive Submission of Bids instructions in the Solicitation Instructions and Terms section below.

If you have already registered with ESM Source and have been invited to this Solicitation no further action is needed.
